Q What does the LIFELINE test series offer?

A Jury Charge, Literary, and Q&A computer-accessible, high-quality, professionally recorded word-count testing material with accompanying hard copies available to aid in lesson plan preparation and in grading. Recorded tests are compared to printed tests to ensure word-for-word accuracy per test speed. Test preparation was guided by NCRA's "How To Prepare A Skills Test."

Q What benefit will my school enjoy from purchasing LIFELINE prerecorded tests?

A LIFELINE tests will save your school money by reducing the out-of-class time instructors spend creating and marking tests instead of preparing for each day's lessons, grading, and interacting with students. When the test series is complete, your school will have a complement of tests available to maintain compliance with both quality and diversity of testing according to the six-months-between-test-presentation guidelines from NCRA's General Requirements and Minimum Standards.

Q How will I implement this into my school's existing program?

A Free consultation is available to help you meet your school's specific needs.

Please call or e-mail for details.

Pricing plans available upon request.

Q Who is LIFELINE?

A Brenda Line, owner of LIFELINE MUSIC/LIFELINE DICTATION since 1988, was graduated from Central Pennsylvania Business School in 1983 and worked as a court reporter in the freelance field and then as a court reporting instructor at Central Penn, until 1999. Using this experience, Brenda has developed a complement of practice CDs ranging from 40 wpm to 280 wpm, which many of today's students and reporters who practice know and love. Brenda is a professional singer and uses this vocal talent and her own in-house professional recording equipment to prepare her dictation materials.

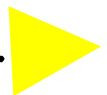

Upon request, Brenda has begun preparing and recording digital test dictation with accompanying text - a unique approach to benefit time-challenged instructors. In addition to preparing and recording practice and test material, Brenda is a scopist, proofreader, writer, and active participant in home, family, and community activities.

Brenda's second-voice dictators are Adam Miller, RPR, CRI, CSR, DCRA President, a NCSA Board Member, and owner of DepositionsDelaware LLC; and Patricia Miller, CRI, CPE, DCRA Executive Director and PCRA Workforce Committee Co-Chairperson. Adam and Pat have experience teaching in NCRA-approved court reporting programs.
